TO SOUTH AUSTRALIA

SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Adelaide, South Australia's capital, is a city of art, café culture, great restaurants, the iconic Adelaide Oval and the busy Adelaide Central Market.

Named as one of the Great Wine Capitals of the World, Adelaide is the gateway to 18 tantalising wine regions. Within an hour's drive either north, east or south, you'll find yourself enjoying a glass or two of the country's finest. The iconic Barossa has more than 80 cellar doors and some of the finest regional restaurants in the country; the Adelaide Hills is known for its cool climate varieties, and McLaren Vale produces some of the best dry reds in the world. Further afield you'll find the Clare Valley for Riesling lovers, and the Coonawarra for its big, hearty reds.

Adelaide is also the gateway to the outback. Five hours' drive north of Adelaide is the beautiful, ancient rock formation and natural amphitheatre of Wilpena Pound. Further north in the underground town of Coober Pedy, go 'noodling' for opals, a beautiful multi-coloured gemstone unique to Australia.

The ultimate island escape can be found on Kangaroo Island where its conservation status means that the native Australian animals including kangaroos, koalas, echidnas, wallabies, sea lions and dolphins can be seen thriving in their island environment.

For a coastal escape, the Eyre Peninsula is a short flight away. Feast on succulent fresh seafood or get close to nature with one of the many aquatic activities available, such as cage diving with great white sharks, or swimming with friendly sea lions and dolphins. For less open waters, hire a luxury houseboat on the Murray River and relax as you slowly drift past the landscapes teeming with wildlife.

Get closer to the good things in life, and start your Australian holiday in Adelaide, South Australia.

WINE COUNTRY

Wine connoisseurs around the world know that South Australia is synonymous with excellent wines. While the Barossa, McLaren Vale and Coonawarra are home to many worldclass, award-winning wineries, they represent just a handful of the state's great wine regions. In fact, there are more than 200 cellar doors on Adelaide's doorstep. However, there's more to South Australia than our wine. Adelaide is a culinary playground with a smorgasbord of cuisines on offer.

Whether you'd rather meet the growers and makers, pick your own ingredients, or dine in any of our world-class restaurants, South Australians and our visitors are spoiled for choice. Visit the Adelaide Central Market in the city, or any of the regional farmers' markets (Willunga and Barossa to name a few) to experience new flavours and fresh ingredients. 'Paddock and ocean to plate' and fresh locally sourced produce is at the heart of our food scene.

If you have more time, you might want to follow one of the many produce or wine trails – by car, foot, or bicycle. From the cooler climate of the Adelaide Hills to the seafood frontier that is the Eyre Peninsula, the great food bowl that surrounds the Murray River to the natural wonder of Kangaroo Island, our wonderful state produces some incredible, and sometimes surprising, delicacies. This is the world of South Australian food and wine – it's what we're famous for.

Be captivated by iconic attractions such as the huge natural amphitheatre of Wilpena Pound, the razorback ridges and astronomical observatory at Arkaroola, the unusual outback town of Coober Pedy – the largest producer of precious opal in the world and where half the residents live underground in dugouts. Nearby is the striking rocky landscape of the Kanku - The Breakaways, best seen at sunset. Take a scenic flight over Kati Thanda—Lake Eyre, a vast salt lake that rarely fills with water but when it does it's a magnificent sight attracting an enormous number of waterbirds.

Make sure you call into one of the outback pubs for friendly local hospitality and to sample some creative menus.
